Big Funeral Today at Telluride.

Twenty-five Men Died in Mine Fire.

Engineer Who Sacrificed Himself Passes Away.

Company to Close Workings for Thirty Days and Repair the Damage.

(BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)
TELLURIDE (Colo.) Nov. 22.—The work of recovering the bodies of the victims of the disaster in the Smuggler-Union mine has progressed slowly, until, at 11 o'clock today, sixty hours after the breaking out of the fire at the mouth of the Bullion tunnel, the last body was brought to the surface. It was that of John Nevala, and was found in one of the steps of the seventh level. The death list now numbers twenty-five, the brave engineers who sacrificed themselves in an effort to rescue his comrades, having died this afternoon. He never regained consciousness after being taken from the mine, and was only kept alive so long by the most arduous work of the physicians in attendance.

The revised list of dead is as follows:
AUGUST KAUTER, Finlander, family living at Telluride.
CHARLES MACKIE, wife living in Telluride.
THORWALD TORKELSON, wife in Norway.
WILLIAM MERRIWEATHER, wife and family at North Fork.
JOHN NEVALA, wife and family in Telluride.
ALICE FILLMAN, wife living in Telluride.
IVAN SUNDRUM, wife and family in Silver Plume.
BATTISTO OBERO, family living at Telluride.
ANTONIO AUREL, family living at Telluride.
JOHN RABOR, family living at Telluride.
ELOI BERSAGO, family living at Telluride.
EMIL DAHL, family living at Telluride.
JAMES NELSON, family living at Telluride.
JOHN AHLE, family living at Telluride.
MATT STARK, family living at Telluride.
ALEXANDER BARKLEY, family living at Telluride.
JOHN PETERSON, family living at Telluride.
WILLIAM JONES, family living at Telluride.
WILLIAM GRAHAM, family living at Telluride.
FRANK ZADRA, family living at Telluride.
MARK ZADRA, family living at Telluride.
GUS SUNDBORG, family living at Telluride.
ALLEN HENDRICKSON, family living at Telluride.
HUGH J. O'NEILL, family living at Telluride.

The exploration of the ninth level was completed today, but no bodies were found. The workings are not sufficiently free from gas to make it entirely safe to explore all parts of them.

The responsibility for the disaster has not yet been fixed, and no one at Telluride is being blamed. The coroner has held an inquest over the bodies at the morgue, and several of them have been sent to relatives in other parts of the State. The citizens today completed arrangements to bury the others with honors tomorrow afternoon. All places of business will close at the request of the mayor. The services will be held in the theater, and all the ministers of the city will take part.

It is said that the company will close its mine for about thirty days, during which time the workings, which were damaged to the extent of more than $50,000, will be repaired and will then reopen with a force of between 700 and 1000 men.

TOOK THE BURS OFF BRIDLES OF HORSES.
FASHIONABLE NEW YORKERS GET WARNING TO BE GOOD.

Commodore Gerry, founder of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, is held by officers who relieve his horses.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Officers of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals made it decidedly uncomfortable for a number of prominent fashionable people who were attending the horse show. When the carriage of Commodore Elbridge T. Gerry, founder of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, drove up, the officers removed the bridle burs. Others similarly treated were Mrs. George Bliss, Mrs. J. F. Baudouin, Millionaire Merrill, Mrs. A. French, Mrs. W. B. Bangs, Dr. G. L. Filler and others equally notable.

The bur is a circular leather pad, about two and one-half inches in diameter, the inside of which is studded with small bunches of stiff bristles, about three-eighths of an inch long, or in some instances, with nails or screws. When a horse moves his head to either side or either rein is drawn upon, the bristles or spikes or screws prick him and he chafes the bit, keeps his head up and looks "tewell."

Fashionable owners were let off with the warning that if caught again they would be arrested and prosecuted.

Exclusionists' Set of Resolutions.

Re-enactment of Geary Law Demanded.

Delegation in Congress Must Agitate in Unison.

Supplementary Report Adopted, Leaving Japanese in Committee's Hands.

(BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)
SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 22.—The Chinese Exclusion Convention completed its work today with the adoption of the following resolutions: "First. We demand the continuance of existing treaties with China and the re-enactment of the Geary Exclusion Law."

"Second. We recommend that the California delegates in Congress act unitedly in the presentation of a bill to accomplish this purpose, and use their utmost endeavors to secure its immediate enactment into a law."

As a supplementary report, the Committee on Resolutions presented a statement, which was adopted, recognizing the menace to the industrial conditions on the coast of the rapidly increasing number of Japanese and other Asiatic immigrants, and asking that the matter be referred to the Executive Committee, with instructions to take such steps as may be necessary to secure all possible protection from the evil set forth.

The convention also adopted a memorial stating at length the reasons why the continued restriction of Chinese and other Asiatic immigration is demanded by the people of the Pacific Coast.

RESOLUTIONS IN FULL.
(BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)
SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 22.—At the afternoon session, the following resolutions were adopted:

"Whereas, the Chinese exclusion act, known as the Geary law, will expire by limitation on May 24, 1902; and whereas, the treaty between this country and China concerning the restriction of immigration from the latter nation may, under its provisions, expire on March 3, 1904; and whereas, the evils that produced the necessity for the present exclusion law and the making of the present treaty with China still exist in our midst, and dangers therefrom are imminent now as they were when the present barriers were established, and whereas, unless such barriers are maintained and vigorously guarded, our people will be exposed to a renewed invasion of Chinese laborers with all its attendant evils, and to the interest of our wage earners and injurious to the general welfare; and whereas, the beneficial results flowing from the operations of said act have met with expectations of the people in avoiding an increase of Chinese immigration and an aggravation of the many evils thereof; therefore, be it

"Resolved, by the Chinese Exclusion Convention of the State of California, composed of 900 delegates representing the State, county and city governments and industrial and civic organizations in all parts of the State, that we demand the continuance of existing treaties with China and the re-enactment of the Geary exclusion law."

"Second. That we recommend that the California delegates in Congress act unitedly in the presentation of a bill to accomplish the purposes hereinbefore set forth, and use their utmost endeavors to secure its immediate enactment into law."

As a supplementary report, the committee presented the following: "Whereas, we recognize in the character and rapidly-increasing number of Japanese and other Asiatic immigrants a menace to the industrial interests of our people; and whereas, we believe that the time has arrived when cognizance should be taken of this condition; therefore, be it

"Resolved, by the California Chinese Exclusion Convention, that the question of Japanese and other Asiatic immigration be referred to the Executive Committee of this convention, with instructions to devise and pursue such steps as may be necessary and advisable to secure all possible protection from the evils herein set forth."

The memorial addressed to the President and Congress, which was adopted by the convention, is an exhaustive presentation of the whole subject of Chinese immigration, the evils thereof, which are plainly pointed out. It says, in part: "We respectfully represent that American labor should not be exposed to the destructive competition of aliens who do not, will not, and cannot take up the burdens of American citizenship; whose presence is an economic blight and a patriotic danger. It has been urged that the Chinese are unskilled, and that they create wealth in field, mine and forest, which ultimately redounds to the benefit of the white skilled workman. The Chinese are skilled and are capable of almost any skilled employment. They have invaded the cigar, shoe, broom, chemical, clothing, fruit-canning, match-making and woolen-manufacturing industries, and have displaced more than four thousand white men in these several employments in the city of San Francisco. As common laborers, they have throughout California displaced tens of thousands of men.

"The effects of Chinese exclusion has been most advantageous to the State. The 75,000 Chinese residents of California in 1890 have been reduced, according to the last census, to 46,000; and whereas the white settlement of California by Caucasians had been arrested prior to the adoption of these laws, a healthy growth of the State in population has marked the progress of recent years. Every material interest of the State has advanced and prosperity has been our portion. Were the restrictive laws relaxed we are convinced that our working population would be displaced, and the noble structure of our State, the creation of American ideas and industry would be imperiled, if not destroyed.

"Commerce is not sentimental, and has not been affected by our policy of exclusion. The Chinese government, knowing the necessities of the situation, being familiar with the fact that almost every country has imposed restrictions upon the immigration of Chinese coolies does not regard our attitude as an unfriendly act. Indeed, our legislation has been confirmed by treaty. Nor are the Chinese unappreciative of the friendship of the United States recently displayed in saving possibly the empire itself from dismemberment. So, therefore, America is at no disadvantage in its commercial dealings with China on account of the domestic policy of Chinese exclusion.

"Therefore, every consideration of public duty, the nation's safety and the people's rights, the preservation of our civilization and the perpetuity of our institutions impel your memorialists to ask for the re-enactment of the exclusion laws which have for twenty years protected us against the gravest dangers, and which, were it not for the American people hold sacred for themselves and their posterity."

At the close of the convention the Committee on Resolutions and Memorial held a session on the platform of Metropolitan Temple, and organized as an Executive Committee, to press the campaign.

Upon motion of Senator Davis of Alameda, T. J. Geary, author of the exclusion act, and chairman of the convention, was elected chairman of the committee. Senator Davis was elected vice-chairman, and J. C. McLaughlin secretary.

Chairman Geary was empowered to appoint five delegates to go to Washington and press the passage of a new exclusion act. He selected Hon. James W. Phelan, Andrew Furuseth and Truxton Beale, and will choose two more gentlemen in a day or two.

TALKS AND ORGANIZATION.
(BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)
SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 22.—In the Chinese exclusion convention this forenoon the speech of Dr. William Rader was a notable effort and deeply interested the convention. D. E. McKinley, Congressman Woods and Mayor Snyder also made important addresses.

When Chairman Geary stepped to the front of the stage and rapped for order, he announced that the first business would be to hear the report of the Committee on Permanent Organization. In that report the committee recommended that Hon. Thomas Geary be made permanent chairman, and the following gentlemen be made vice-presidents: James H. Barry, C. A. Stike and H. Rogers. That H. A. Stike be made permanent secretary, with the following assistants: Charles Schaefer, T. H. Egan, C. D. Rogers and J. C. McLaughlin. That the Committee on Memorial and Resolutions, with the chairman of the convention as its secretary, be empowered to increase their number if necessary, to fill vacancies and take such other action as it might deem necessary.

It was urged by Congressman Woods that the convention maintain its organization, so that it may assemble at any time and action in line with this suggestion may be taken.

ALARM IN CHINA.
RUSH FOR UNITED STATES.
(BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)
PORT TOWNSEND (Wash.) Nov. 22.—According to advices from the Orient brought by the steamship Kinshabu Maru, arriving today, considerable excitement prevails in China over the attitude of the United States relative to the exclusion law, and alarm is felt among a large number of Celestials now in China who are entitled to return to the United States.

As the present exclusion law expires in May, 1902, the basis of the fears of the Chinese is that a new law will be enacted of such a stringent nature that many of the privileged class will be barred from returning, and hundreds of thousands will be left in the United States before the law expires.

GOOD RED INDIANS.

Home, Sweet Home, Key to Whole.

Commissioner Jones's Policy Outlined.

Cutting Off of Rations Has Excellent Effects, Also.

Rear-Admiral Schley Accepting Invitations—Crozier Chief of Ordnance.

(BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—A policy which it is contended will settle the entire Indian question within a generation is announced by Commissioner of Indian Affairs William Jones, in his annual report, made public today. His plan is to give the Indian opportunity for self-support; the same protection of his person and property as given others; throw him on his own resources, and enforce on him the realization of the dignity of labor and the importance of building and maintaining a home for himself.

Commissioner Jones says that at the outset the Indian must have aid and instruction, and necessities doubtless will have to be furnished him until his labor becomes productive. Until the Indian has become a part of the community in which he lives, day schools, the commissioner says, should be established at convenient places, where the Indian may learn something of ordinary business transactions.

The key to the whole situation, the commissioner suggests, is the home. The larger and more powerful tribes, he adds, are located in an arid region, on unproductive reservations, often in a rigorous climate, where there is no chance to make even a living. In these cases something should be done undoubtedly, toward placing such Indians in a position where they can support themselves.

The commissioner says the cutting off of rations from all Indians except those who are incapacitated from earning support, has had very gratifying results, and if followed up, ultimately will lead to abolition of the reservation and the absorption of the Indian into our body politic.

In the last thirty-three years, the report says, $100,000,000 has been spent on an Indian population not exceeding 100,000. Notwithstanding this the Indian is still on his reservation, being fed; money is still being paid him; he is still dependent on the government for existence and he is "little, if any, nearer the goal of independence than he was thirty years ago, and if the present policy is continued, he could get little if any nearer in the next thirty years to come."

BRIDIE FOR GOVERNOR.
ARIZONA'S ROUGH RIDER.
(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Col. A. Brodie, formerly of the Rough Riders, is slated for appointment as Governor of Arizona. It is expected by certain Arizona Republicans that the President will make the appointment soon after Congress meets. Nathan Oakes Murphy, the present Governor of Arizona, is serving the unexpired term of Gov. McCord, which terminates in about a year.

It is understood that Murphy is personally unpopular with the rank and file of the Republican party in Arizona, and that a change of Governors has been requested by a number of the residents of the Territory.

Gov. Murphy was defeated last fall, when candidates for delegate to Congress from Arizona, by Mark Smith, a Democrat, who received a majority of 1000. The Democratic victory was achieved in the face of a serious split in that party. Col. Brodie has the full trust and confidence of the President.

CROZIER APPOINTED.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—The President today appointed William A. Crozier Chief of Ordnance, with rank of brigadier-general.

UNIMPORTANT TESTIMONY.
BONINE MURDER TRIAL.
(BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—Five witnesses were heard today in the trial of Mrs. Ida Bonine for the murder of James S. Arnes, Jr. Four of these witnesses were policemen who had gone to Ayer's room, after the discovery of the body by employees of the Kennam Hotel, and the fifth was W. W. Warfield, who was proprietor of the hotel at the time of the tragedy.

The policeman testified in details of the wounds, position of the body, and arrangement of the furniture in the room. Warfield's testimony was very brief. In response to a question by Attorney Fulton of Mrs. Bonine's counsel, he said that Mrs. Bonine had made arrangements to leave the hotel before the tragedy occurred, but both the question and the answer were subsequently ruled out. It is the contention of the defense to call Warfield for the purpose of eliciting information from him on this and other points, on Mrs. Bonine's behalf.

Only once during the day did Mrs. Bonine display emotion, and that was when the bloody underlaid, which had been worn by Ayres on the night of the killing, was identified by Officer Brady.

The court adjourned until Monday to give the attorneys in the case an opportunity to prepare themselves for the work in hand.

WHY CONGER PROTESTED.

CHINA'S CROOKED DEALING.
BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—Minister Conger's action in protesting to the Chinese government against the arbitrary cancellation of a railway franchise granted to an American company, and his transfer to a French corporation, was taken upon representation made to the State Department by the American China Improvement Company, which has a franchise to construct a road from Canton to Honkong. It is understood that forfeiture of the claim was based on two accounts:

First, that the road was not completed within the stipulated period of time; and second, that the American corporation had passed to the Belgians. The State Department holds that the conditions in China for the last year and a half have been such as to make it impossible for the American company to have completed its work, and that for this delay the Chinese government, itself, is responsible. In the second account, the fact that the road maintains its American character makes it incumbent upon our government, following its rule, to defend the franchise.

REPORT FROM PHILIPPINES.

REACHES SECRETARY ROOT.
BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS.—A.M.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—D. R. Williams, secretary of the Philippine Commission, has arrived in Washington and delivered the report on the commission to Secretary Root. The report is a very long one, covering every feature of the Philippine government. Besides the report proper, there are several volumes of appendices containing reports of different offices of the government. It is understood that from the facts contained in this report, Congress is expected to act in legislation for the Philippines at the coming session. Secretary Root will give the report to the cabinet tomorrow. Accompanying Williams was Charles A. Conant, who was sent to the Philippines by Secretary Root to make an investigation of and report upon the monetary situation in the islands. The information on this point which the Secretary has received is expected to be recommended to Congress legislation which will improve the present condition.

Secretary Root talked to the cabinet for some time about a feature of his annual report, which will provide for a board of instruction for officers of the army. This system of higher instruction will, in effect, establish a new branch of army education.

When asked if it was his opinion that the United States should annex Cuba, he said:

"As a member of this commission, representing all classes and political parties of Cuba, I do not feel myself at liberty to express an individual opinion. I would like to say that 99 per cent. of the business people and property holders of Cuba favored annexation, you would be correct."

COLON (Columbia) Nov. 22.—[By Central American Cable.] It is reported that the government has received a communication to the United States Consul-General, setting forth that it cannot guarantee protection for isthmian transit.

Two sailing boats, having seventy-five men on board, which left Panama with Gen. Alban, returned to that place at 3 p.m. yesterday, and Gen. Alban and fifty soldiers arrived there on board the gunboat Royaca at 7 o'clock p.m.

The Liberals here assert that Gen. Lorenzo attacked Gen. Alban's force after it had landed at Chame, near Chorrera, and defeated it, only Gen. Alban and a few of his troops escaping.

It is also claimed by the Liberals that the other division of Gen. Alban's force was routed by Gen. Lugo, when 400 of Alban's troops joined the Liberal ranks.

The Liberals at Colon are jubilant, and assert that they expect Gen. Lugo to arrive at Colon momentarily.

Further details of the later decisive fighting are expected at Panama any moment.

Señor Espinola, counsel for the Panama Railroad, who was appointed provisional prefect by the Liberals yesterday, has declined to accept the office, and Dr. Campillo has been appointed prefect. Señoristas has accepted the appointment as Mayor, which was offered to Dr. Valverde.

The United States gunboat Marietta is expected here. The Marietta, which was reported from Colon last night, has been signaled in the offing.

LIBERALS GAIN RECRUITS.

BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS.—A.M.
COLON, Nov. 22.—The latest news obtainable here is to the effect that the Liberal Gen. Lugo has arrived at Empire station, distant about twelve miles from Panama, with a force said to number 1,000 men.

The Liberals are gaining and arming many recruits along the entire length of the railroad, and now control the line up to within a mile of the city of Panama. An attack on that city is expected momentarily, and much uneasiness is felt there. The Liberal leader, Dominguez Diaz, is expected shortly to arrive at Colon.

It is rumored here that Buenaventura, a Colombian port, has been taken by the Liberals. Confirmation of this report is lacking.

Marines from the gunboat Machias still guard the station property of the railroad. The battleship Iowa will land forces at Panama when the necessity arises.

The Liberals here have already given notice that the ad-valorem duty on goods imported at Colon will be 10 per cent. as formerly. All the stores in Colon are open today, and business has been resumed.

UNCLE SAM'S DUTY.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—The answer of the Colombian government to the representations of Consul-General Guadalupe to the effect that the government was unable to guarantee the integrity of the railway communication across the isthmus, was purposely developed in order to make perfectly plain the fact that the United States was perfectly justified in landing its forces at Colon.

The formal acknowledgment by the Colombian government of its inability to maintain communication, it is said, is not the privilege, but the duty of the United States under the treaty of Granada, to guarantee that communication, even though it comes at the expense of the United States. It is not intended to interfere between the Conservative or Liberal, unless a faction places itself in the position of obstructing the purpose of the United States to keep the Panama Railroad free to traffic.

GEN. ALBAN'S PLANS.

BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS.—A.M.
NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—[By Havana Cable.] Brigadier of Colombia received a cablegram today from Gen. Charles Alban, Governor of the Department of Panama. The cablegram stated that the insurgents under Gen. Diaz today at Chorrera, and Alban promised, if successful in routing them, to proceed to Colon and retake that city. The Consul-General reads that outcome of today's fight as highly important, the entire isthmus would be in the hands of the Liberal insurgent party.

LUGO TO TAKE CHARGE.

BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS.—A.M.
NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—A dispatch from Colon says Gen. Lugo is on his way to Colon from Chorrera to take charge of the campaign. Col. Barrera declares that the insurgents can resist any attack by the government troops.

WAKING UP THE BRITISH.

American Diplomacy is at Last Telling.

"Spectator" Advocates a Larger Spirit.

Wants to Know Why Great Britain Shouldn't Recognize Monroe Doctrine.

BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.

LONDON, Nov. 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Spectator's leading article today deals with the isthmian Canal treaty, the Monroe doctrine, and the writer reads Secretary Hay's speech at the Chamber of Commerce banquet in New York, as confirming the reports of newspaper correspondents and showing that the question, at once simple and satisfactory, may be reached on the whole question.

The Spectator recalls its advocacy of such solution. May 11, when it argued that the thing most to be sought was not how to put the Americans in the wrong, but how to solve the question in a way that would tend to promote British interests. The Spectator believes that this has been ultimately achieved, and that the Foreign Office has done in November what it might just as well have done in March. The paper complains that the Foreign Office is too apt to connect international relations in a spirit of narrowness and niggardly timidity.

The paper advocates the adoption of the same large spirit which has characterized English diplomacy in the canal arrangement in dealing with Russia in regard to the Far East and Persia, and also with the United States in regard to the Monroe doctrine. Being convinced that the American foreign policy in future will turn on the enforcement of the Monroe doctrine, which, the Spectator argues, contains nothing dangerous to Great Britain, the paper asks why should we not look ahead and acknowledge the Monroe doctrine in a tactful, but openly, "If America," says the Spectator, "will define the Monroe doctrine, why shouldn't we formally acknowledge it and pledge ourselves not to infringe it? It is a question of policy, not of principle. The other powers for their indorsement. They could hardly refuse, and their adhesion would be of great use, not to America, but to the cause of peace, for it would eliminate the possibility of a European war, the risk of which in regard to European interference in Brazil and Spanish South America, which is now always a possibility, would pass away.

The Spectator urges that, even if the other powers are unwilling to recognize the Monroe doctrine, it would be worth Great Britain's while to do so. It would simplify, and therefore improve, the relations between England and the United States, and in effect, would guarantee to Great Britain those regions which she already possesses in the New World.

The Saturday Review, in dealing with the canal question, accuses the Marquis of Lansdowne, the Foreign Secretary, of having gone back on every principle that he enforced with sound sense and irrefragable logic a year ago, and of abandoning every right acquired by the Clayton-Bulwer treaty without any equivalent in return. The Review says that the Marquis of Lansdowne, in doing this, is betraying the interests of the British Empire, and that he is doing so in a most unbecoming manner. ## WOUND UP THE HEARING.

Oil-rate Case Taken Under Advisement.

Thomas Hughes of Los Angeles Testifies.

Boards of Directors Assemble in New York—Hays in His Old Place.

(BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)
SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 22.—The railroad commission today resumed its hearing of the petition of John E. Hughes for a reduction of the oil rates between this city and Bakersfield, and the case for the oil men was concluded today with the testimony of A. J. Hughes of Fresno. He testified that he produces 1500 barrels of oil a day. At present he cannot dispose of his product. He believed that if a low rate was in effect between this city and Fresno, his entire output could be sold here at good prices. T. L. Reed of the Reed Oil Company of Bakersfield gave similar testimony.

The case for the railroad was opened by Thomas Hughes, an oil producer of Los Angeles. He testified that the present condition of the oil market was due to over-production. Before the Kern River field was opened, he said, oil sold in Los Angeles for $1.50 a barrel. Three months ago, when the matter of rates was first taken up by the Railroad Commission, the market price was 75 cents; today it is less than 50 cents.

"There has been a steady decrease in price for nearly a year," said Hughes, "and I see no possibility of an immediate change. It can't be helped by the rates. Some day it must be found to enlarge the market."

Thomas O'Donnell and Edward H. Hays, also oil producers in the Los Angeles field, confirmed Hughes' testimony. O'Donnell even went so far as to say that the production in Kern county was so great that it all was carried free to San Francisco. It would be sold here as cheaply as it is in the field today.

"It is not a matter of rates," he said, "but a question of over-production. Where there is a market for the oil in the quantity it is now produced, the price will adjust itself."

Other witnesses gave a similar testimony for the receiver, and late in the afternoon the case was submitted to the commission. A decision will be rendered some time within the next three or four weeks.

CHICAGO, Nov. 22.—Chicago, Burlington and Quincy stockholders met again today, but took no action. They agreed to reconvene November 23.

FREIGHT-HANDLERS' STRIKE.
NEW HAVEN CARS TIED UP.
(BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)
NEW HAVEN (Conn.), Nov. 22.—The freight handlers employed in the local yards of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad Company have been out on strike today, and hundreds of cars are tied up here. The railroad managers say that men from Boston, Philadelphia and other points are on their way here to take the place of the strikers. At the request of the railroad company, police details were sent to the yards today to guard the property of the company.

At the railroad office it was stated that two trains had come from Harlem River, and one freight had been made up here and started for Boston. Three engines and shifting crews were said to be at work in the yards.

The men in the yards at Meriden, who went out yesterday, have returned to work. The only strike today outside of New Haven, is said to be at Westfield, Va., where a few men quit work last night.

WORKING FOR SETTLEMENT.
(BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)
NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—There were no developments over night in the strike of the New York, New Haven and Hartford switchmen. Division Superintendent Shepard said that everything looks favorable for an early settlement of the strike, and that over half of the regular force were at work in the Harlem River yard. It was said that thirty-five men had been sent to New Haven to take the place of the strikers there, and that new men were being brought in to the city from eastern Pennsylvania, New Jersey and northern New York.

John Tundgren, deputy commissioner of labor, and William H. Hays, secretary of the State Board of Mediation are using their good offices to bring the strike to an end. They conferred with Superintendent Shepard today and then called on the strike leaders.

GOV. OER'S OPINION.
APPROVES OF CONFERENCE.
(BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)
PORTLAND (Ore.), Nov. 22.—A special to the Oregonian from Salem, Ore., says that Gov. Oer yesterday made the following statement:

"A conference of the Northwestern Governors to prevent a combination of parallel and competing railroads might be a good thing, and I certainly would favor such a conference, though I could not attend it myself unless it was held on this coast. Oregon is not interested directly, however, since we have no such railroads nor any law on that subject."

"If such action on the part of the parallel railways means increased exactions from the Northern Pacific and the Great Northern, influential interests in the organization of the Northern Securities Company said today that while they believed that the company's plans for controlling the Northern Pacific and Great Northern roads could not be upset through legal proceedings, based on allegations that they conflicted with anti-consolidation laws of the different States, some changes might be forced. It was held by these interests that there was a question as to whether President Hill of the Great Northern Railway, under a strict interpretation of present laws, had an unquestioned right to be a member of the board of directors of the Northern Pacific Railway. The same doubt existed as to the right of E. H. Harriman, chairman of the Union Pacific, to be a member of the Northern Pacific board. It was asserted that it was not impossible that both these officers might retire from the Northern Pacific board.

LETTERS TO THE GOVERNORS.
VAN SANT SENDS THEM.
(BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)
ST. PAUL (Minn.), Nov. 22.—Gov. Van Sant today sent to the Governors of Montana, Idaho and Washington letters stating the facts so far as he has ascertained them, with regard to the alleged attempt to consolidate the Northern Pacific and Great Northern railways, and asking for their opinion as to what action should be undertaken. The Governor declined to give out the text of the letter.

Should the other Governors be favorable to united action, it is probable that a conference will be called for an early date. Such meeting will probably be at St. Paul, because it is here that the Northern Pacific and Great Northern companies have their headquarters, and if any action at law is brought to break up the proposed consolidation it is most likely to be brought in this State.

Atty.-Gen. Douglass has been located at Koss Landing, fifty-two miles beyond Duluth. He is expected home tomorrow.

RAILWAY MEN CONFERENCE.
RUMORS OF ANOTHER COMBINE.
(BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)
NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—Horace G. Rort, president of the Union Pacific Railway; J. Kruttschnitt, vice-president of the Southern Pacific Railway; A. L. Mohler, president of the Oregon Railway and Navigation Company, and S. M. Neilson, president of the Chicago and Alton Railway, arrived in this city last night, and today attended meetings of their respective boards of directors.

It was also said that they were called here to attend a special conference of the heads of all the roads of which President Harriman is the official head. No statement was obtainable on this point, however. The fact recently been some discussion as to a merging of the lines composing what is commonly known as the Harriman system, and the possibility of a company to the Northern Securities Company, but no responsible authority can be obtained for this report.

HAYS MANAGES GRAND TRUNK.

ROZING'S GRINNING SKULL.
Will Be Taken Before Gov. Toole as a Mute Witness in Behalf of a Condemned Prisoner.
(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
HELENA (Mont.), Nov. 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Monday, the grinning skull of Thomas Rozing, disinterred from several months' burial in Peru, was brought before Gov. Toole as a mute though striking witness in the petition for a commutation of the death sentence of Milton O. Howell, the man who shot Rozing in a quarrel over an irrigation ditch, and who was sentenced to be hanged December 12.

The exhuming of Rozing's skeleton was without authority of law, and was performed by Lawyer W. E. Cort, Howell's attorney. He sought permission from various judges and the governor, without success. Then, in a desperate effort to save his client's life, he decided to take a physician with him and get the skull. By examination of this Cort will attempt to disprove the assertion that Howell shot Rozing in the back.

RED AND BLUE ON GRIDIRON.

Johnny Harvard and Eli Yale Compete.

Betting Favors the New Haven Eleven.

Roeder Defeats Nechad in a Two-hour Struggle—New York Horse Show.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] On Soldiers Field, Cambridge, tomorrow afternoon, the rival football teams of Johnny Harvard and Eli Yale will lock horns in a contest which promises to be the most bitterly-fought of all the many hard battles that have taken place on the gridiron between these great universities. Since the defeat of the Princeton "Tigers" in New Haven, last Saturday, the blue of Yale has waved triumphantly over the Yale field, and the Yale cohorts have been hurling defiance at the crimson of Harvard in tones that were ringing and unmistakable.

Full of a confidence that is born of a feeling of supremacy, and trained to the minute to make the fight of their lives, Eli's move on Cambridge today was daunted by the many stories of the wonderful prowess of the crimson eleven. Deep down in the heart of every member of Yale's sturdy band and deeply rooted in every one of the student body of New Haven's great university, is the belief that when the struggle is over, old Eli's warriors will march off the field crowned with the laurel wreath of victory. So much for Yale.

Harvard, on the other hand, is equally as confident. Not for a minute has the Crimson been daunted by the decisive triumph of Eli's sons over the Tigers. To every question that has been put to her as to the result of a game, Harvard has had but one answer: "We will win," says the coach, and "We will win," echoes every man of the thousands of the students of the dean of America's great institutions of learning. Surely, where such confidence is displayed, there must be good ground for it. For this game, the crowning football contest of the year, Harvard has been especially trained and prepared. Beneath it, all other games fall into insignificance.

From all accounts, the Crimson's coaches firmly believe that the team is in the best possible condition for the fray, and that, taken man for man, the players will compare more than favorably with Yale's husky warriors. Added to this, the coaches say, is the fact that the battle will be fought out on Harvard's home field, which is a slight advantage, and, figuring on this basis, they cannot wait out other than a victory for the Crimson.

The crowd that will watch these knights of the gridiron will be one of the largest that ever saw a football contest in this country. Thirty-five thousand tickets have been sold, and it is said that nearly as many more could have been disposed of had the committee been able to accommodate all the buyers. Several thousand spectators started from this city last night to see the game, which, it is believed, will be the most spectacular and gruelling contest that has been fought out on the white-bordered gridiron in years.

Despite all reports to the contrary, there has not been much betting in this city on the result. In the few wagers that have been recorded, Yale has ruled a slight favorite at $100 to $20.

LAW SCHOOL'S VICTORY.
(BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)
CAMBRIDGE (Mass.), Nov. 22.—The Harvard eleven had light signal practice of about fifteen minutes, this afternoon, after which they were sent off the field without doing any further work. The different formations went off very smoothly.

The win of Harvard Law School over the Yale Law School, this afternoon, by the score of 24 to 0, has aroused the students to confidence in their team. They are no longer taking odds, but are willing to bet even money. Cambridge is decorated as never before, every store in the square flying colors, the crimson predominating, but with a goodly showing of the blue. Many of the decorations are very elaborate.

Rheumatism

That's a Rack

On which you need not suffer long—it depends on an acid that flows in the blood, affecting the muscles and joints, producing inflammation and pain. This acid gets into the blood through defective digestion and remains there because the liver, kidneys and skin are too torpid to excrete it.

Hood's Sarsaparilla which acts directly and peculiarly on the blood and through that on the liver, kidneys and skin, removes the cause of rheumatism and cures the disease.

"I was troubled with rheumatism. Friends recommended Hood's Sarsaparilla and I began taking it. I have now taken two bottles and am able to be at work regularly. I have not felt any symptoms of rheumatism for over three weeks." Carl Ostrom, Bunker Hill, Kan.

"I had dull pains in my limbs which caused me a great deal of suffering. The doctor said it was rheumatism. I tried a great many remedies, but nothing seemed to do me any good until the doctor advised me to take Hood's Sarsaparilla. When I had taken five bottles of this medicine I was cured. My limbs are now all right, and I call Hood's Sarsaparilla the best medicine I can use in my family." H. A. Rice, Collins, Mo.

Hood's Sarsaparilla promises to cure and keeps the promise.

IN CHAINS TO TRADITION.

Athenians Prefer Death to Progress.

Students Make Martyrs of the Victims.

With Solemn Honors They Accompany the Bodies to the Grave.

ATHENS, Nov. 22.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The turbulent demonstrations here growing out of the proposal to translate the gospels into modern Greek were continued today in the streets, especially in front of the Chamber of Deputies and before the university. There were many ugly rushes. The military is finding difficulty in controlling the rioters. The meeting of the Chamber of Deputies today was marked by a series of violent altercations.

FUNERAL OF VICTIMS. [BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS.—A.M.] ATHENS, Nov. 22.—At noon it was announced that the government, to preserve order, had prevented the ministers from attending the Chamber of Deputies today, but that they will attend tomorrow, and move a vote of want of confidence. In the absence of a quorum, the Chamber adjourned.

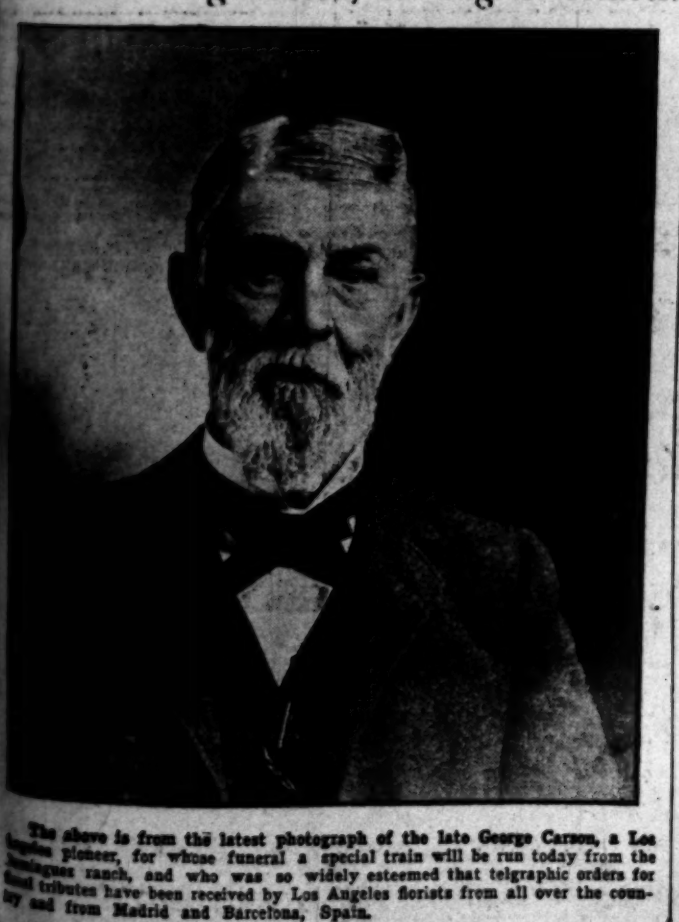

In the course of the afternoon the growing crowds and the increasing excitement heralded the hour for the funeral of the victims of the riot. The bulk of the troops were confined to the barracks. The shops along the route were closed by police order. At 5 o'clock the cortege left the cathedral for the cemetery, dense crowds following. The seven coffins, covered with white flags, were preceded by students carrying a black banner. The procession halted for some minutes before the palace, but no cries were raised. The populace, going to and returning from the cemetery, maintained a silent, restrained demeanor. At the cemetery M. Levedis delivered an oration, in the course of which he attacked the government, and declared that the people ought to erect a monument over the "victims of duty and patriotism."

HOLD THE UNIVERSITY. The city resumed its normal aspect as the evening wore on. The students, however, still remain in occupation of the university. The rector, at the head of thirty professors, endeavored to persuade them to retire, but they declined to comply unless given guarantees that no proceedings would be taken against them; that the translators of the gospels would be excommunicated, and that the university would not be closed by troops.

It seems that the resignation of the metropolitan of Athens, Procopius Comnenidis, was very dramatic. The Minister of Public Worship, M. Stais, visited him during the night, and told him that the King and government desired him to resign. At first the metropolitan refused. He was then taken to see the Premier, M. Theotokis, after which all three went to the palace at 1 o'clock in the morning. As a result of the interview with the King, the metropolitan resigned, weeping and broken-hearted. M. Theotokis had a narrow escape when his life was attempted. He displayed the greatest courage, and forbade his friends to fire on his assailants. The gates at the residence bear the marks of seven bullets.

AGAIN A BOOZE-DISPENSER. The anti-saloons who rejoiced that "Bob" Kern had quit the saloon business and made arrangements to open a candy kitchen, will have to revise their opinion of Robert's reformation. Many were getting ready to bestow their patronage upon him in his new calling, just to encourage him in well-doing. Kern had formed a partnership with P. E. McCord, an experienced ice-cream and candy man and mixer of soft drinks, to open a temperance refreshment resort on Fourth street, opposite Hotel Angelus. They were to begin business about the middle of November, but Kern went to San Francisco to look around a bit, and a week or two ago sent word back that he had decided to embark in business in that city. McCord thereupon bought a confectionery store in Pasadena, and the report now comes down from the North that Kern has purchased the "Bouquet" saloon, opposite the Palace Hotel in San Francisco.

McKinley and Lincoln the Only Presidents Who Knew How to Meet Requirements of That Section. [BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS.—A.M.] NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—Senator MacLaurin of South Carolina, at the Mayflower banquet last night, said: "There are only two men in our history who fully understood the South—Lincoln and McKinley. If Lincoln had lived there would have been an end to carping and an end to carping among us, and if McKinley had lived he would have reunited the discordant sections of the South, for, more than any other man, he understood them."

THERE WILL BE FUN IF LYNCH APPEARS.

UNLIKELY TO BEARD THE BRITISH LION IN HIS PARLIAMENT.

Size of His Majority a Surprise to All Sides—He is Described as Being Young, Handsome, Impulsive, Emotional and Sentimental.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS.—A.M.] NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—Commenting upon the election of Arthur Lynch over Mr. Plunkett in the Parliamentary election at Galway, Ireland, the London correspondent of the Times says that Arthur Lynch, who has been elected to Parliament from Galway, led the so-called Irish contingent against the British flag in South Africa. It seems impossible that he should attempt to come to England to take his seat.

He is a handsome young Irishman, impulsive, emotional and sentimental. The apparent indisposition of the London press to make light of his South African venture is suggestive.

UNEXPECTED MAJORITY.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS.—A.M.] NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—The London Tribune correspondent cables concerning the Galway elections that a victory for Col. Lynch was generally anticipated, but the plurality is greater than his supporters had expected. At the general election Morris, the Union candidate, won the seat from the Nationalists by a plurality of 137, so that result means on paper an addition to the Nationalist forces in Parliament. Not much sympathy is expressed for Plunkett, the defeated candidate, in this morning's papers. His attitude in Galway was not sufficiently anti-National to secure for him the full Unionist vote. The government may not have sufficient evidence to show that Col. Lynch is a member of Parliament, so that if he decides to disavow the testimony of his backers, he may after all be able to act as a member of Parliament.

SUSCEPTIBLE BRITONS.

"COARSENEED" IN AMERICA.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS.—A.M.] LONDON, Nov. 22.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The St. James Gazette this afternoon repeats its assertion that English actors are "coarsened" in America, and that visits there are "artistically detrimental to English actresses." The paper adds: "We fear there is some doubt about the matter." In the United States a less subtle and more accentuated style of acting is necessary, in order that a player may make his effects. The audience like a less delicate and noisier method. They are less quick to catch and appreciate the nuances of the actor's art. Violence of gesture and tone do not offend them. They do not detect or resent what is crude and shoddy, as a West End audience would. They are easily taken in by clap-trap.

RUNAWAYS CAPTURED.

Domingo Cruz and Clyde Lang, both twelve-year-old boys, who were arrested in Ventura county at the request of Sheriff Hammel, were brought to this city yesterday. The boys ran away from their homes near Cerritos more than a week ago. They took with them a horse and cart, the property of the Cruz boy's father, and started to drive up the Coast. A description of this rig was sent to various points, and from it a Ventura officer identified the boys and placed them under arrest.

LOOKING FOR BAG OF GOLD.

Robbery Theory as to Downey Homicide.

Two Hundred Dollars in Coin Missing.

Mystery of a Caricature on Back Door of the Wilcox Ranch House.

The murderer of the Wilcox family at Downey is still a free man. The arrest, which it was thought yesterday might come within twenty-four hours, has not yet been made, for the same reason that Bud Lewis was not arrested Tuesday night, simply because there is not sufficient evidence against any man to warrant his arrest. Sheriff Hammel visited Downey yesterday, driving over early in the morning and returning about 4 o'clock in the afternoon. He said last night that there were absolutely no new developments in the case, and that there was nothing to be given to the public. This does not mean that the officers have no clew to work on. They have many of them, but so far every one that has been followed has resulted in disappointment.

WILCOX'S GOLD.

The robbery theory was strengthened yesterday when P. N. Van Horn, a druggist at No. 347 East First street, informed the officers that Wilcox took a bag containing more than $200 in gold to the ranch with him but a few days before the murder. This money has not yet been found. Wilcox and Van Horn had been friends for eight or ten years. The cigar stand which Wilcox owned is but a block from Van Horn's drug store. Wilcox often called at the drug store, and Van Horn speaks highly of his character.

Soon after Wilcox sold his business he called at the drug store with a bag containing over $200 in gold, mostly $20 pieces. He requested the privilege of leaving this money in Van Horn's safe. Several calls were made, and he was going to pay some bills. When he returned with the bag it contained about $200 in gold, and it was placed again in the safe.

Wilcox visited the Downey ranch several times for the purpose of furnishing the house and putting it in order for his wife and baby, for whom he seemed to have much solicitude. Before moving he sold a quantity of furniture to a second-hand dealer on Main street, and the money received for the goods was placed in the bag in the safe.

The day that Wilcox and his family moved to Downey, about two weeks ago, he called for his money. It is supposed he took it to the country with him. Where it is now is not known. It certainly was not in the wallet found on the table in the room where the murder was committed. The money bag was a sort of dirty brown leather, in color like the hide of a cow. It was about five inches in depth and was fastened with a clasp such as is found on most purses, two little knobs interlocking to keep it closed. Mr. Van Horn says Wilcox usually carried this bag in his trousers. When Wilcox's body was examined for evidence of robbery, the trousers were so badly burned that it could not be determined whether or not the pockets had been rifled.

It may be that Wilcox had a secret hiding-place in his house or the ranch, where the money may be found. He told Bud Lewis's father, a few days before the murder that he had money enough to pay for three or four cows and some pigs.

LEWIS AGAIN.

There was much excitement in Downey yesterday afternoon when it was reported that Bud Lewis's father had been arrested, and the wisecracks shook their heads in an "I-told-you-so" manner, but there was nothing in the report. Bud Lewis was in Los Angeles with his father and called on the Sheriff to inform that officer that Bud was going to work as soon as he could find a position. Bud promised to keep the Sheriff informed as to his whereabouts, so that he might be found if wanted.

According to Druggist Van Horn, the relations between Wilcox and Bud Lewis were friendly. Wilcox, it is said, furnished Lewis a position when he was in trouble. When Lewis was arrested on the charge of embezzlement, which was dismissed last Saturday, Van Horn asked Wilcox if he was going to act again as bondsman. Wilcox replied that he was not; that Bud would have to look out for himself.

It was an unfortunate circumstance for Bud Lewis that he should have been released from jail on the morning of the day on which the murder must have been committed. Had his trial and discharge taken place but a few days later his name probably would not have been connected with the crime. As it is, notwithstanding his clear statements as to his movements from the time of his release until the bodies of the victims were found, and the fact that the officers deemed it unwise to arrest him, the residents of Downey still look with suspicion on him, probably because he has been in trouble before, and because the personal revenue theory seems more reasonable to them than any other.

According to the statements of "Doc" Bruns, and others, Wilcox expected trouble with some one. Bruns, who is now at Randsburg, says that Wilcox, when he took Bruns to the Downey ranch, said: "This is the first trip I have ever made down to the ranch without a gun, as I know Lewis is in jail."

A Downey rancher says he was conversing with Wilcox a year and a half ago at the First-street cigar stand. Wilcox then expressed a desire to go on the ranch, but the rancher advised him not to do so, as he probably would have trouble. With whom he did not say.

covery yesterday at the house where the triple murder took place.

On the back door of the summer kitchen through which the detectives have decided that the murderer burst upon the Wilcox family, was found a singular drawing sketched in pencil on the whitewash.

It is the figure of a woman in an attitude of horror or fright. The eyes are dilated and the arms are outstretched. The mouth is open. In a crude raw way it is a representation of extreme emotion and distress.

At the bottom of the sketch is written "This is you."

At the neck of the figure the white-was either fallen off or had been scraped off in a tiny spot. At the abdomen another dark spot shows in the wall.

The significant part of this is that the spot scraped off at the neck is in the exact location of the place where the murderer's pistol was placed close up to the body of the baby boy and fired.

The spot picked out of the abdomen of the figure is the same place where the woman was shot at close range—so close that her clothes were burned. It may be that the sketch is the work of a child and that the whitewash has fallen off. It is not possible to tell whether the sketch is old or new.

In any case it is an interesting and curious circumstance. In case a child did it, it is a weird and gruesome coincidence. But for two noticeable features it would pass for the scrawl of a child as a matter of course.

The writing at the bottom is too bold and free for a child. Children do not make the letter "S" in that flowing style. The sketch was too high on the door to have been made by a child standing on the ground.

Whatever it may be, the sketch could not have been done by the Wilcox child. He was too young.

PRACTICAL POLITICS.

The Times last Sunday began the publication of a series of twelve papers on "Practical Politics," written by Hon. William H. (Buck) Hinrichsen, ex-Congressman and ex-Secretary of State of Illinois. Mr. Hinrichsen is well equipped for this work, having been actively engaged in politics for many years, and having held important positions in county, State and national committees.

To the average reader the series will prove interesting. It brings before him in a bright story the workings of the machinery of a political party and makes simple the mass of politics which puzzles so many people.

Of course the work is strictly non-partisan.

The following topical outline will explain the character of the work:

- I. Choosing a Party, Joining the Organization. (Published last Sunday.)
- II. Study of Civil Government, Election Laws and Political Geography. (To be published tomorrow.)
- III. Party Machinery, Committees and Conventions.
- IV. Taking and Correcting a Political Poll.
- V. Making Use of the Information Contained in the Poll.
- VI. Work in the County and Precinct Committees, Organizing or Committees, Subcommittees and Bureau, Holding Nominations, Securing Candidates, Securing Candidates and Platform, Organizing Clubs, Collecting Campaign Funds.
- VII. In the County and Precinct Committees, Local Speakers, Distributing Literature, Visiting the Precincts.
- VIII. In the State, National and District Committees.
- IX. In the County and Precinct Committees, Instructions to the Individual Voter as to His Rights and Duties and in Marking of the Ballot, Registration of Voters, Use of Money in Politics.
- X. Preparation for Election Day. Final Reports and Instructions, Division of Labor, Getting out the Vote, Making Canvass, Counting the Vote, Certifying the Returns.
- XI. Review of Work, Comparison of Methods with Results, What the Student Has Learned, General Observations.

OUR FOREIGN TRADE BALANCES.

The October exports from the United States were unusually heavy, although they showed a loss of $17,700,000 as compared to the same month of 1900. The latter month, however, was one of extraordinary exports, being a so-called "record-breaker." Our imports for October, 1901, increased by $10,000,000 over those of the preceding year. This increase of imports and decrease of exports reduced the balance of trade in our favor to $64,200,000, as against $52,700,000 in October, 1900.

The decrease of our exports last month was due chiefly to two causes, the slow movement of cotton (which will be made up later in the season), and the severe depression which exists in some of the European markets (which may or may not be made up later on).

Our trade balances, for some years past, have been the wonder of the world. It is not to be expected that they will continue indefinitely to break records from month to month. Nor is it to be expected that our exports will continue to increase from month to month and from year to year. There will be months, and even years, of reaction, dependent in large part upon the ability of our foreign customers to purchase our products. We should therefore be satisfied with a good average of increase in exports, and with keeping the balance of trade in our favor, most of the time at least.

The increase of our imports to the extent of nearly $11,000,000 for the month of October, as compared to the same month of 1900, indicates continued and unprecedented prosperity in the United States. If our people were not unusually prosperous, they could not afford to purchase so liberally of imported products. The decrease of over $17,000,000 in our exports, while it is a considerable sum in itself, is so small an amount in comparison to our total exports that its effect upon American industries will hardly be felt. The remarkable activity of all our industries has furnished remunerative employment to the great mass of American workers, largely increasing their purchasing power. This in turn has kept the domestic market buoyant to such an extent that we do not mind a little thing like the loss of several millions in foreign trade.

King Edward laughs over the reports about his failing health; but, all the same, the leading physicians of the kingdom give him but two years in which to settle his house in Great Britain.

Minister Wu saw his first game of football at Detroit a few days ago, and is probably convinced by this time that the Boxers of his country are not the most bloodthirsty set in the world, after all.

NOW WE KNOW.

There have been many speculations as to what sort of a President Col. Roosevelt will make, and what kind of a career he is to have in the White House. Our curiosity on this score is now, to a considerable extent, satisfied. A dispatch from Washington states that two copies of President Roosevelt's horoscope have been received by the librarian of Congress, from a St. Louis man, for copyrighting.

The horoscope was cast when Mr. Roosevelt took the oath of office. The author considers it remarkable that at that time "Capricorn and Aquarius" were rising, Saturn being chief ruler, and Uranus co-ruler. While it is true that this condition of affairs is somewhat unusual, it would have been still more remarkable had Uranus been setting, and Saturn just rising from bed.

The conclusion drawn by the horoman from this condition of celestial affairs is: "That many alterations and amendments in laws, customs, politics, treaties and religions of the land will occur; also that the enemies of America will be confounded during this administration, and that the matchless, irresistible march of American supremacy will meet with most wonderful impetus." ("Hear; hear!")

Saturn's position in the firmament also shows conclusively that the President will have "to grapple with vast political problems, the like of which we do not dream of today." This is somewhat vague, but it is doubtless a pretty safe guess, as are also the statements that the President will develop "a world-wide policy of sturdy Americanism," and that "in Congress there will be great liability of unusual opposition." Indeed, there almost always is.

The most serious of all, according to the prophet of St. Louis, is that there are omens of a terrible calamity that is to befall "some school or eleemosynary or reformatory establishment in which the government has some direct interest." Somebody, "most likely a Cabinet officer," will meet a violent death. Surely! A year seldom goes by that somebody in this country does not meet a violent death. The prophet is evidently determined to be on the safe side. One encouraging feature of this forecast is the statement that the heavens do not indicate any foreign war, "although there will be matters in dispute between the United States and another country." The country will certainly breathe more easily, now that we have this definite and authoritative statement from heavenly headquarters of what is in store for us in the near future.

GOLD AND GAS.

When it comes to dealing with mining matters, the average "able correspondent" of the press frequently makes some astonishingly bad breaks. Sometimes these are perpetrated through ignorance, and sometimes with malice prepense, for the sake of boosting up a mining deal. In either case, the retroactive effect of the publication of such stories on the minds of the investing public is bad.

A recent dispatch from Denver to the Times told of an asserted wonderful discovery of a new method of extracting gold from ore, which, it is said, "astounds mining men, as, indeed, it will many. According to this story a man named Wynn, a "chemist of repute," says that gold can be brought from a gaseous state to an ultimate degree of development with astonishingly larger results than from the cyanide or fire process. Low-grade ore is ground for the purpose. The secret is in the combination of chemicals, and not in the treatment."

This is rather vague, but the story goes on to tell how ores "with the barest trace of gold yield upward of $200 a ton, at a cost of $50." This story is absurd, on the face of it. How is it possible to obtain $200, or even $50, of gold from ore which only assays a trace? This would be to accomplish what the alchemists of old sought in vain to do for centuries.

Another story, published in a local paper, comes from Tucson, a place which is a sort of headquarters for newspaper fakes and exaggerations. According to this story, the manager of nine groups of copper mines in the State of Sonora, which were worked in ancient times by the Spaniards, reports that "three experienced mining men have estimated the amount of ore in sight in one of these groups at from 4,000,000 to 5,000,000 tons, at the average value of $80 per ton. That is to say, the value of $300,000,000, or $240,000,000, to adopt the lower estimate. Supposing the other eight groups of mines to be equally rich, this would give us the stupendous amount of $2,100,000,000 to $2,000,000,000 worth of copper, to be dumped on the market in the near future, and that, be it remembered, only includes the ore "in sight." How much more there may be out of sight, the Lord only knows, and he would not be likely to tell a Tucson man. Well may Senator Clark hurry to Paris, to talk with the Rothschilds about getting up a combine in copper. If any one takes any stock in this Tucson yarn, he would do well to sell copper short, or in other words, to "copper" it.

Apropos of Senator Clark, an Arizona mining paper publishes a yarn to the effect that the United Verde copper mine represents a value in excess of $5,000,000, so that, according to this veracious journal, Senator Clark is the richest man in the world, "so rich, in fact, that the combined wealth of the Rothschilds, the Rockefellers, the Vanderbilts, the Pierpont Morgans and the Carnegies represents a sum that he could lose and still be the richest man in the world." In that case, the Assessor of Yavapai county is derelict in his duty in not taxing the Senator on a billion or so of property, when the Territory of Arizona would no longer have to worry about financial disability in connection with Statehood.

Such wild and impossible stories as these do harm to the legitimate mining industry, and should be discouraged by respectable newspapers. And yet we expect to hear a loud roar at The Times from a section of the Arizona press because we have exposed a fake yarn, "Downing Arizona," etc.

A Bridgeport (Ct.) man will place a flying machine on the market shortly for the nominal retail price of $3000. Does he throw in an accident policy and a guarantee that the machine will not exhibit symptoms of indigestibility?

The Gas Works—Oh, Phew!
LOS ANGELES, Nov. 22.—[To the Editor of the Times:] Will you allow me to say in your columns that the Fire Commissioners who have granted a petition for the Dobbins concern for a location for gas works in the Eighth street schoolhouse, have evidently failed to consider the interests of the city.

The proposed gas works would be located about 40 feet from the Annex street public school, which cost the city about $30,000, and which is the daily resort of about 800 school children. What a nuisance to the schoolhouse as sacred rights as any other children in the city.

Can you imagine the commission's voting factory within 400 feet of the Spring-street school, or the Eighth-street school, or the Sixteenth-street school, or the Normal school?

We are citizens and property owners, and we have rights which the courts will respect, in spite of reckless Fire Commissioners who do not happen to live in our neighborhood.

INJURED MEN DOING WELL.

No More Deaths Due to Train Wreck.

Company is Trying to Adjust Losses.

No Damage Suits Expected as Result of Franconia Disaster.

The condition of the injured trainmen in the Sisters Hospital, as the result of the disaster on the Santa Fe Road, near Franconia, Ariz., Wednesday morning, continues to improve, according to the reports of the railway physicians and the nurses in attendance. The remaining of the trainmen, Engineer Holmes and one or two others are not yet considered out of danger, but the chief surgeon, Dr. N. H. Morrison, stated last night that he expected all to recover unless unforeseen complications should arise. The unfortunate are being given every attention that modern medical skill and surgical appliances can afford, but the recovery of several of the victims will necessarily be slow, owing to the serious nature of their injuries.

The body of R. H. Higgins, the ill-fated conductor of train No. 3, was taken to San Francisco for burial yesterday afternoon, members of his family and friends accompanying the remains. The charred remains of W. L. Case, fireman of train No. 4, will be brought to this city for interment. The eastern suit on the case of the trainmen, who were almost burned to death, is expected to arrive from The Needles this morning. The funeral will probably be held on Tuesday. The body of the deceased living in Michigan, time to arrive here for the obsequies. Case was a son of a well-known family of the young man. His father and mother, three brothers and two sisters are heart-broken over his sad fate. Other relatives of the deceased are in the city. The funeral of the order from Needles, Barstow and Los Angeles will attend the funeral.

There have been no further developments as to the cause of the disaster, but it seems probable that the cause of the collision was due to disobedience or neglect of orders by the crew of the west-bound train in their attempt to make up lost time. the plan of the "one-hoss shay," to withstand the ravages of time and the baggage man. It stood the test. The trunk was blown through the side of the baggage car out onto the desert, but was picked up in fairly good condition and brought to this city. Most of the contents were intact, though oil-stained; but there was a jagged hole in one side of the trunk, and right in the middle of the medley of disarranged clothing and effects the adjuster found yesterday a chunk of railroad iron weighing six pounds.

With two or three exceptions the other trunks were entirely destroyed, and none came out of the excitement so little the worse for it as this one.

COAST LINE.
PROGRESS OF THE WORK.
The Southern Pacific Coast line will be in perfect condition for operating fast trains by December 4, when overland traffic by that route will be resumed, says G. A. Parkyn, assistant general freight and passenger agent. Mr. Parkyn has been on the coast since San Francisco via the Coast line and he took a careful look over the track on the way down.

The heavy new rails are down at all points excepting a short stretch south-east of Ventura, where the force of men is at work there and the job will be completed by the date named. No branches of trade, that the provisions for a wet winter will be fulfilled.

OLD WOMAN'S MOUNTAINS.
The Danby (Cal.) correspondent of the Los Angeles Mining Review gives an account of the strike lately made on the Price claims in Old Woman's mountain district, near Bernardino, in this State. He says: "The property consists of five claims lying three-quarters of a mile west of the Silver Lake mine. The Little Silver (one of the Price claims) shows a good strong cropping from two to four feet in width, traceable for 100 feet, some of the ore being of the best quality shown in gold and silver. Mr. Price showed me his assay from surface ore gathered for a distance of 150 feet, which gave values of $25 gold and $100 silver per ton. The balance of the group (Little Silver Nos. 2, 3, 4 and 5) show good strong leads, which can be traced for a distance of 100 feet on the surface. I made quite a number of borings from the different leads and all showed free gold. The ore is of the same character as the Silver Lake mine, and being in the same formation and locality, give as good a promise as did the Silver Lake when it was discovered. The Silver Lake mine is a new development work on the property as fast as possible. He has gone to Los Angeles to get an outfit for the camp."

MINES AND MINING ON THE PACIFIC COAST.

WET WINTER PREDICTED FOR THE NORTHERN COUNTIES.

The Strike in the Price Claims, Near Danby—Work of State Mining Bureau, Activity in Gold Road District, Arizona—Notes.

Predictions are made for a wet winter in the northern counties of California. Plenty of water for mining purposes is a greater necessity there than it is in the southern portion of the State, chiefly because large quantities are required for hydraulic mining, of which little is done in the northern counties. Copious rains mean plenty of snow on the mountains, which as it melts replenishes the reservoirs with water for quartz and placer mining. The gold production of California is still very greatly dependent upon the winter rains, so it is to be hoped, for all branches of trade, that the predictions for a wet winter will be fulfilled.

LOOLOOS WIN ONE MORE.

Batted the Ball Hard and Often.

Devereaux Anything but a Puzzle.

Cripples are Badly Beaten—
Bowling Game—Golf and Football Today.

In a stupid game that had little or no life about it, the Loo-loos defeated the Skeeters yesterday with a score of 4 to 4. There was nothing startling about the affair from beginning to end, except that the Loo-loos were lucky enough to rap out their hits in bunches, which invariably resulted in runs. A good-sized audience watched the proceedings. Jones was put in to pitch against Devereaux, and got the better of him in several ways. Two strange things in connection with their pitching was that neither struck out a batter or hit one.

The locals hopped upon Devereaux the first chance they had, and slapped out four of Little Willie's choicest offerings. Added to the Skeeters' blunders these four slaps netted three runs, and furnished the Loo-loos a lead they never lost. Little Willie's $1000 pa at on the bench and watched the Loo-loos chasing themselves across the plate, but all he had to say was to himself, "Nothing could end the agony but the crash of the ball hitting, and then the foreigners were two runs shy.

As a certain rascal, Curly Dougherty singled over Little Willie, and Hemphill also drove one out. Atherton hit to Flood, who threw Curly out at the plate. Belts fouled out and Dummy followed with a safe hit to left, which McLaughlin juggled long enough for Hemphill to score. Atherton going to third and Dummy to second on the run. Both scored on Hall's fly. In the fourth inning, Flood hit to the station on Flood's muff of his fly, and to second on Hall's safe punt. A minute later Stanley threw the ball to second to catch Dummy, but Courtney let it pass him. Not seeing where the ball was, Dummy hugged his base, and Hall ran to it from first. Dummy, who touched out, but never said a word. He then laced the ball to center field and Hoffer let it pass by him, Hall scoring and Hoffer going to third. After McLaughlin's catch of Flood's fly to left.

The last run was made in the sixth on Hall's single. Dummy's fly, Hall's hit to Flood and Hoffer's safe smash past third.

The visitors made their first in the fourth on Courtney's pass and steal. Doy's out and Hoffer's hit to short field. Two more were scored in the eighth on Devereaux's easy hit to Hall, whose poor throw to Kilm went to the clubhouse; Flood's hit through second, Sheehan's to right, and a foolish throw to second and back.

In the ninth, after Hoffer was out on an easy infield hit, Davis and McLaughlin drew passes and Davis scored on Flood's double to left, which went by Atherton after he had made a long run to catch it on the fly.

VICTORIOUS DUTCH.

CRIPPLES BADLY BEATEN.
[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M.]
SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 22.—Oakland tried a new pitcher today. Waterbury was his name. He did very well at the start, and, in fact, in every inning but two. In those he was batted all over the field till he became so wild that he was taken off the slab till the next inning, when he came back in fine shape, and the locals made but one more run off him. He had one redeeming feature in that he made the only run credited to the Oaklanders after leading off with a fine double. Score:

FUNERAL OF MRS. JOHN C. AUSTIN.
Mrs. Austin, whose funeral takes place at Christ Episcopal Church at 2:30 p.m. today, belongs to a good English family. Her father was a clergyman of the Church of England, and her brother has long been a well-known government official, and is now an Almoner of the City of London. The local members of the Southern California Chapter of Architects will act as pallbearers at the funeral. The service will be held at the home of Mrs. Austin, which Mrs. Austin was secretary, will furnish the music, with Prof. Waldo F. Chase at the organ. Archdeacon A. G. L. Drew will officiate.

ZOLLINHOFF INDICTED.

TYNDALL CAPTURED A CROWDED HOUSE.

BUT HE SAID THAT GOV. GAGE WAS DEAD.

The Mind-concentrator and Music-reader Did Many Startling Tricks at Blanchard Hall and Will Take a Wild Ride Today.

With coat-tails flying out behind, sedate physicians, lawyers and clergymen following madly along in the rear and people standing on their seats in their excitement, Dr. Melvor Tyndall went through his paces last night before a crowded packing Blanchard Hall, with scarcely a slip during the whole programme. He is clever—immensely so. He grows very attractive after while, and wins the audience over whether or no. His work is not heavy and strained; there is a laugh in every trick, beside the deep occultness of the thing. You are not kept waiting between acts—in fact it is hard to keep up with the rush of the show.

First Tyndall explained the way he does it—how, blindfolded, he concentrates his mind upon the concentrated minds of others with whom he comes in contact, and sees through their vision; how it all feels and how hard the crowd must think to help him along. Then everybody unconsciously sets whether to work, and the fun begins. Tyndall asks for nine committee-men—well-known men to be selected by the audience—who are to occupy the platform, and the necessary blindfolding of the actor and his principal thinking machines. The committee consisted of Drs. Dawson, Beckett, Wise, Babcock and Clark, Revs. Bodkin and Hamilton, and Messrs. Fryman and Edleman. They turned themselves into the principal part of the show and had as much fun as a lot of boys.

One of Tyndall's demonstrations developed a big, unintentional joke. He gives a sort of ballot test. Members of the committee and several people in the audience write the names of well-known men—men they may be either dead or alive—upon slips of paper, which are folded and dropped into a hat. Enter Tyndall, blindfolded. One of the committee is ordered to take the slips one by one and rub them across the performer's forehead. After each he asks the committee whether it is the name of a dead man or a live one, and sometimes the full name.

He hesitated some over the first one. Then came one of which there was no doubt.

"Dead!" cried Tyndall, confidently. The committee unfolded the paper and read in a loud voice, "Gov. Gage!" Everybody roared.

One of the best things Tyndall put up was the cigar trick. He made two of the committee, while a third takes a cigar, sticks it for a moment into the mouth of some one in the audience, and then holds it. Tyndall enters blindfolded, grasps the hand of one of the committee, and with the thought-aid of the audience first goes directly to the cigar and then sticks it back into the mouth it was in before—picks out the little hole in the right party's face out of all the scores and hundreds of faces in the room.

On the first trial he failed, but it proved the truth of his claim to mind-reading through contact. The committee, without knowing it, were divided as to which person had mouthed the cigar. It had been placed in the mouth of a woman in the gallery at the rear of the hall. Her neighbor, a young man, had been placed in the two at the distance. Dr. Beckett, whose hand Tyndall grasped, concentrated his mind on the wrong woman, and she got the cigar crammed down her throat instead. He went to her and tried all over again, with different subjects, and was a perfect success.

There were other successful demonstrations of occult power too lengthy for description. Dr. Beckett was blindfolded with a paper cutter by another of the committee while Tyndall was out of

In the verdict that any person is to blame for the accident. The dead body of Lincoln Rutherford, substitute janitor in the office of Wells, Fargo & Co., was found in that office at Third and Main streets yesterday morning by one of the employees. Rutherford had gone to the place before daylight, and had completed his work of sweeping and dusting. He was probably seized with sudden illness, and sat down on a settee near the door, for his body was found there, with the keys in his hand. The body was still warm, showing that death had occurred only a short time before. The coroner was notified, and at the inquest it was determined that death had been caused by congestion of the lungs. The deceased was 35 years of age, and was considered an excellent workman.

This afternoon an inquest will be held on the remains of John Williams, who killed himself yesterday by throwing himself in front of a railroad train on Alameda street.

MUCH valuable information will be found in an article on "Columbia's War" in The Times Magazine the coming Sunday.

WHITE AND RED

Pale blood—pale face—poor health; Scott's Emulsion—red blood—rosy face—good health; that's the order of events.

Our first lines give a condensed history of many cases, chiefly young girls at school. For some reason girls, of that age are frequent sufferers from pale blood—a real blood starvation.

Scott's Emulsion, a clean, white medicine, makes rich, red blood and rosy faces. It is blood food.

BUSY DAY FOR CORONER.

Two Cases of Death from Natural Causes and Another the Result of Bicycle Accident Investigated.

Three inquests were held by the coroner yesterday, and he made arrangements for another to be held today. The first was upon the remains of Peter H. Don, who was found dead in his room in a Los Angeles-street lodging-house. It was found that the man had died of disease of the kidneys, and a verdict of death from natural causes was rendered.

In the case of William H. Marcher, the old man who was killed Thursday evening by running into a street car while riding his wheel, the coroner's jury found that death resulted from a fracture of the skull. It is not stated

STRIKE FEVER HITS THE WEARY HOBOS.

UNION METHODS TRIED AT SAN BERNARDINO ROCK PILE.

Tramp Prisoners Want Three Meals a Day, but They Will Pound Stone or Feast on Water and Bread in Cells. A Slavonian Bride Missing.

SAN BERNARDINO, Nov. 22.—[From The Times' Correspondent.] The thirty or more hobos in the County Jail, who were put at work on the rock pile a few days ago, have adopted union tactics, and struck. They want three meals of good grub a day, and they want work. The present one-meal-a-day system will, however, continue in force, and operations at the rock pile will continue on a six-hour schedule. The fellows who won't work, will be kept locked up night and day in solitary cells, and their diet will be limited to bread and water, mostly water. The hobos do little actual work on the rock pile, but spend most of their time talking.

MISSING BRIDE.
A young Slavonian, hailing from Victoria, spent last evening in town in an anxious search for his fifteen-year-old wife, who left her home in the afternoon and had failed to return at the appointed time. The injuries are painful, but will probably not prove fatal.

OLDE TYME PARTIE AT THE MEETING HOUSE.

IMMANUEL PRESBYTERIAN YOUNG FOLKS IN OLD CLOTHES.

Continental Costumes and All Sorts of Quaint Doings at a Social of the Young People of the Christian Endeavor Society—A Great Success.

Thursday evening the parlors of Immanuel Presbyterian Church were filled with a bright and happy throng of young people in eighteenth-century costumes.

They were intent upon having a "ryghte goode tyme," and they had it. Old family chests had been explored, and stately costumes of the long-ago resuscitated for the occasion. Beautiful and stately young women, with their brilliantly-attired cavaliers, made a show of style and color rarely seen in this prosaic age.

The event was entitled an "Olde Tyme Thanksgiving Partie," and was also, as stated on the invitation, designed that "all goody young persons may have a ryghte goode tyme, and likewise that the pastor's assistant, Rev. L. J. Adams, may get to know ye young folks."

Quantity-worded placards announced that "Turkey shooting in one corner," "a game of putting on one's tye" in another, and also announced the presence of "Dame Noell, the predestinate of the parish of St. Dawson."

With stately dignity, in his colonial costume, L. Richmond read George Washington's first proclamation for a national Thanksgiving day.

There was a song by eight of "ye likeable youths," and Dr. MacArthur gave a humorous Scotch reading. There were also songs by Jesse Martin and Mrs. J. C. Mason.

Miss Florence Field and Miss Fanny Adams recited. The selection of Miss Russell as "The Landing of the Pilgrims."

"A toothsome satyr" was provided in the form of a New England lurch, which was given with an excellent rating tables lighted with many candles.

Dr. Hugh K. Walker closed one of the most enjoyable social events the church has ever given with a reading of characteristic warmth and admonition, and referred to the entertainment as a "beautiful picture."

The program was quaint in form and phrase and were a fitting accompaniment to all that transpired.

STRIKERS STRUCK HARD.

Union no Longer Can Pay for Picket Duty—Planning Mills With Nearly Complete Forces Working.

The members of the Woodworkers' Union have got tired of sharing their weekly salaries with the men who are on strike at the Carpenter & Biles and Hughes planing mills, and it is what that after this week they will "coyote" who have been stationed at those mills since the strike was declared, will receive no remuneration for loafing about and attempting to stir up the lawless elements of the town.

"Car Jim" himself made a scout down to the Hughes mill last evening, but he found discouragement in store for him. A number of policemen, near by, and the laboring-man's troublemaker and chronic nuisance, who was fined $10 last Monday for abusing a policeman, were on duty to prevent any further attempts to stir up the lawless elements of the town.

One union man, a former employee, who was stationed at the Hughes mill, but the force has been recruited almost to its normal strength, and there will not be room for many more of the strikers.

At the Carpenter & Biles mill on Thirty-third street only one man is lacking to make the force complete, and the firm is recruiting and filling more orders at the present time than at any other period in its history.

WANTED IN ILLINOIS.

Alleged Highwayman from Centralia Captured in This City and Will Be Taken East Today.

E. L. Davis, who is wanted in Centralia, Ill., for highway robbery, and who was arrested in this city, will be taken tonight in custody of an officer, Sheriff Wells of Marion county, Ill., arrived here yesterday, with the necessary requisition papers, and recognized the prisoner as the man wanted.

The crime which Davis is alleged to have committed was that of holding up a man on the streets of Centralia and robbing him of $50, and other valuables. He disappeared immediately and came to this city. His relatives in Centralia are anxious to see him, and he has been held in custody since his arrest.

Sheriff Wells said last night that there were two men in the crime, both of whom know the accused.

FIXED THE MINISTER.

And He Needed Looking After.

"Is a minister's family in Los Angeles where I was visiting some time ago, the wife complained of serious indigestion and dyspepsia. She admitted that she used coffee, and said she more than half believed it was the trouble. I told her I knew it was the trouble, and I had gone through with the experience myself and had only been cured when I left off coffee and took up Postum Food Coffee."

She said she had tried the Postum, but for her husband's health she had not liked it. With her permission I made Postum next morning myself, and boiled it half fifteen minutes after the real boiling of the pot began. Then when the water was off, I added the brown color, and had the true flavor and food value that every Postum maker knows. It is all folly to talk about trying to make Postum with one or two minutes' steeping.

"You can't get something good for nothing. It must be boiled, boiled, and to keep it from boiling over, use small lump of butter, perhaps twice the size of a pea. That morning the minister and his wife liked Postum so well that they wholeheartedly gave in on the question of diet and they abandoned coffee at once and for all time."

Now after a hard day's work they are comforted, refreshed, and rested by a cup of well-made Postum for supper. They are both enthusiastic in its praise. The wife has entirely recovered from her dyspepsia. I will not go into the details of my own case, except to say that I was a desperate sufferer with dyspepsia and discovered by leaving off coffee that coffee was the cause of it. I quickly got well when I took up Postum Food Coffee. I earnestly hope many more coffee drinkers may get their eyes open."

Name and address given by Postum Cereal Co., Ltd., Battle Creek, Mich.

EVENTS IN SOCIETY.

Charity Ball.

The charity ball given at Kramer's yesterday evening, under the auspices of the Los Angeles Chapter of the Daughters of the Confederacy, was largely attended by prominent society, professional and business people.

The large ballroom was handsomely decorated with potted ferns and palms and the Confederate flags and banners added a touch of color to the effect.

The Los Angeles chapter was organized three years ago under the direction of Mrs. John Shirley Ward, who was elected president. This position she held for two years, and at the business meeting a month ago Mrs. M. Smith was elected to succeed Mrs. Ward.

The ball was given for the purpose of raising funds for the worthy poor Southern people in this city. The case are looked up by a special committee appointed for this purpose, and much good is done in assisting the needy and sick.

A reception was held during the early part of the evening, during which time Miss Elbert of Texas sang several Southern ballads and Will Allen Dromgoole, the Southern writer, gave two readings. At 10:30 o'clock an elaborate supper was served. The evening festivities concluded with dancing.

The patronesses were Misses Cameron, Erskine, Thom, W. D. Woolwine, Thomas D. Brown, Olin Wellborn, Albert M. Stephens, W. M. Williams, William L. Graves, J. H. Dupuy, M. Smith, David Cunningham and John M. Elliott.

SETTLERS DISAPPOINTED.

The opening of the big tract of land on the San Jacinto forest reserve, near Indio, the prospect of which has stirred up many homeseekers, has been postponed. Late yesterday afternoon the local United States Land Office received by wire from the Commissioner of the General Land Office in Washington instructions to suspend publication of restoration of lands and townships 8, 9 and 10 south, range 8 east, San Jacinto reserve. Instructions by mail will follow immediately, and the local office can only speculate upon the cause of the delay until these explanations arrive from Washington.

Pending the publication undoubtedly means the postponement of the date for the opening of the lands, which was to have been held on Tuesday. The law requires that sixty days' notice shall be given, and the advertisement was to have been given for people for the land office here has been overrun with prospective settlers in search of information concerning the lands in question.

The Right Thing.

A New Catarrh Cure which is Rapidly Coming to the Front.

For several years, Eucalypti Gualand and Eucalypti have been recognized as standard remedies for catarrhal troubles, but they have always been given separately, and only very recently have they been combined.

The Los Angeles chapter was organized three years ago under the direction of Mrs. John Shirley Ward, who was elected president. This position she held for two years, and at the business meeting a month ago Mrs. M. Smith was elected to succeed Mrs. Ward.

The opening of the big tract of land on the San Jacinto forest reserve, near Indio, the prospect of which has stirred up many homeseekers, has been postponed. Late yesterday afternoon the local United States Land Office received by wire from the Commissioner of the General Land Office in Washington instructions to suspend publication of restoration of lands and townships 8, 9 and 10 south, range 8 east, San Jacinto reserve. Instructions by mail will follow immediately, and the local office can only speculate upon the cause of the delay until these explanations arrive from Washington.

Pending the publication undoubtedly means the postponement of the date for the opening of the lands, which was to have been held on Tuesday. The law requires that sixty days' notice shall be given, and the advertisement was to have been given for people for the land office here has been overrun with prospective settlers in search of information concerning the lands in question.
